"." The Revue des Deux Mondes has been formed for the purpose of establishing an intercourse in the intellectual pursuits the most followed between the intellectual pursuits the most followed between distinguished men of Europe and America. It is proposed in this collection to give a prominent place to the affairs of the American Union, to the labors of its politicians, and to the Literary and Scientific publications of its Authors. The Revue des Deux Mondes now makes a public appeal to American Authors and Editors, by sending to it, through Mr. Putnam, of New York, a copy of each of their publications. The Revue is a better position than any other organ in Europe to serve as an intellectual link between the Old and the New World, which has as Editors and Contributors the most eminent political, scientific, and literary men of France. Many of its contributors have visited North and South America, and it still counts among it them many of the Diplomatic and Consular Corps. Each number of the Revue, in addition to its articles signed by the first names of France, contains, under the title of "Chromique de la Quinzaine," a historical summary of the principal events of the political world, which will certainly be, for the American, the most faithful picture of the European movements.

THE CONTENTS OF THE NO. FOR MARCH 15.

New Pork Advertisements. THE KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE.

Edited by Lewis Gaylord Clark.

THIS is pronounced, by the press of America and England, 'the best magazine in America.' It has nearly reached its thirty-fourth volume, and in its list of upward of a hundred contributors are found the names of every distinguished writer, male and female, in America, with several equally prominent of Great Britain, Turkey, Sweden, etc. A new volume, containing a superb engraving, a portrait of the editor engraved by Cheney, from a painting by Elliott, will commence on the first day of July, 1849. The following notices of the KNICKERSCKER are from the American and English press, and from American and British writers of distinction.

'The KNICKERSCKER.—The last number of this venerable and widely-popular periodical appears upon entirely new and beautiful type, in all its departments; and in its rich and diversified contents, continues to vindicate its reputation as the most agreeable and entertaining Magasine published in the United States. When we first started the old 'New Yorker,' our friend Clark had preceded us as Editor of the KNICKERSCKER about a twelvennonth: it has now reached an age greatly beyond that of any American Monthly; a fact which literally 'speaks volumes' in praise of the manner in which the work has been conducted. No number of the K. has ever been issued under Clark's supervision that did not bear indubitable evidence of editorial care, and anxious thought, and well-directed labor enstamped upon its pages. We have known no monthly, of this country or Europe, so thoroughly edited, in the strictest sense of the term.'—New York Daily Tribuse.

'Mathematicians tell us of certain curves called asymptotes, whose peculiarity is always to approach each other, and yet, even when infinitely extended, never to intersect. The KNICKERSCKER, which has reached an age for a man, and only to be attained by a more marvellous miracle, has perpetually approached the highest possible point of interest and excellence; and yet it seems to have an excellence; and yet it seems to ha
